

Lanterns Nursery School Early Years Pupil Premium Information 2024/25

EYPP Statement

At Lanterns Nursery School we have high expectations of all children, regardless of their socio-economic background, race, religion or educational need. Our objective is to use this funding to raise the attainment, aspirations and outcomes of our disadvantaged children. The aim will be to help our disadvantaged children achieve in line with their non-disadvantaged peers, putting them in the best position possible to move into statutory education.

As a nursery school we are unsure of the numbers of children eligible for Early Years Pupil Premium (EYPP) each year due to intakes beginning each term as well as EYPP being based on the age of the children. We are therefore unable to make any firm financial commitments. We continually review and update our strategy throughout the year as new children join us each term (and are identified as eligible for Early Years Pupil Premium funding). Funding information below will be updated termly.

Barriers to learning, intention, implementation and impact
Barriers to learning	Intent	Implementation	Impact
Some children find it difficult to self-regulate and this impedes their ability to feel safe and secure and access the curriculum	To ensure that all staff receive Trauma Informed training	All new staff have our trauma informed approach training as part of their induction and can support children to feel safe and secure within the classroom. All staff use a trauma informed approach and are emotionally available adults. Some children attend relax kids' sessions with a relax kids' practitioner weekly. Practitioners develop a toolkit of relax kid's strategies to support children to self-regulate. There are easily accessible resources to support with expressing emotions and self-regulation.	Staff are knowledgeable and know how to support children. There is a problem-solving culture within teams to support children and ensure emotional needs are supported and met. Staff model how to regulate and use strategies. Staff and children co-regulate. Staff are attuned. Children are focused and ready to engage and learn. Children are settled, enthusiastic about learning and make good progress. Children use strategies independently and with or without support. They talk about and use strategies with their peers. Friendships are supported through the use of strategies. Children enjoy using the strategies they have learnt. Staff have a toolkit to use with children and children have their own individualised toolkit that they use.
Some children become dysregulated at home and parents/carers find this difficult. This can impact on everyday routines, sleep and relationships	To support parents/carers to have knowledge of self-regulation strategies they can use at home	Strategies and ideas are shared with parents/carers to build their knowledge and ideas so they can support their child to regulate at home
Some children have a lack of exposure to enriching experiences at home	To ensure that children access developmentally appropriate and enriching experiences during their time at Lanterns Nursery School	Lanterns curriculum is regularly reviewed and developed by experienced practitioners overseen by the Class teacher and Headteacher. Weekly planning encompasses appropriate child development opportunities, builds on children's interests and ensures reinforcement, consolidation, enhancement and enrichment of learning and skills. Additional support is provided where appropriate	The 50 things document has been very successful in ensuring that all children have been exposed to enriching experiences whilst at Lanterns Nursery School. Enriching experiences are part of planning conversations in weekly meetings. Some of this year's highlights will include life cycles, such as the incubators and eggs hatching into chicks, frog spawn and tadpoles, the farm visiting nursery, colour mixing, observational drawings, a wide range of cooking experiences, paddling pools and sprinklers, the fire engine

Some children have a limited diet and exposure to healthy foods	To ensure that all children access a healthy snack and are exposed to a range of foods during their snack and play experiences	Children will be given everyday opportunities to positively engage with food. This may be through snack, cooking, sensory experiences and role play. In this way children will naturally explore a range of different foods in a playful and explorative way. They may cut, chop, mix, pour, feel, lick, bite, taste, smell, different food items, expressing their likes, dislikes and preferences. This child initiated, supportive and positive approach will overtime encouraging children to independently try more.	Children have been involved in a wide range of growing and tasting experiences. There has been a variety of cooking experiences regularly throughout the year. Food explorers is used as part of the curriculum in Grasshoppers class and elements are used throughout nursery provision. This includes real food in the home corner and food items used in a range of experiences such as in small world play as well as the sensory tray. Knowledge of foods has been extended through the provision of safe knives for the children to cut and explore. Children regularly taste and explore different foods during not only snack time but during the experiences set out above. Staff model and children share the language and their growing knowledge of food. Vocabulary also extended through weighing, comparing and exploring. Children are more willing to try foods that they have not been exposed to before.
Some children use specific strategies at Lanterns Nursery School in order for them to make sense of their day and access an appropriate curriculum. The children benefit from their parents/carers using the same strategies as nursery at home.	To ensure that all parents/carers have the skills, understanding and knowledge to support and engage with their child at home in an appropriate way	SOS (Share Our Strategies) sessions will run specifically for parents of children that attend with SEND. Where appropriate practitioners may visit the home to support.	SOS sessions have run half termly for parents. Parents have responded positively. There is a focus to each session and parents come prepared with questions they may have. They then use this information to support their child at home. The Assistant SENDCo regularly makes communication resources and visuals to support parents at home. Impacting on home life by ensuring that children can communicate their wants and needs and make sense of their day. A termly SEND newsletter is produced by the Assistant SENDCo which contains advice, tips and links. These can also be accessed on the school website.
